I have been using this product for quite a while. I was very impressed with its speed and stability and made my old P-III linux server with only 128 MB RAM and 20 GB HD run very smoothly and maintained a high level of performance. However it was lack of a very important feature for me, that is the upload of multiple images simultaneously (I already had a program for that, it was just uploading in sequence). I have just installed this program, and it does what I want. My old program failed with the newer version of PIL. As always, great products from HP. I just wanted to thank everyone at HP for the wonderful "work" you did on my image upload. It saved my day when I didn't know I could do it. I'm so happy it's been added to the HP website.

What's New in the?

It's a really tiny and portable application you can use to capture the screen as well as resize, rotate and sharpen images, in order to save them to local files with the JPEG, BMP, PNG or GIF extension. The entire program's wrapped in a single.exe file that can be saved to a custom location on the disk or copied to a USB flash drive, in order to easily run it on any PC with minimum effort and no previous installers. It doesn't modify Windows registry settings, need DLLs to run or create files on the disk without asking for permission. Once launched, it gets integrated into the taskbar notifications area and sits silently when not in use, enabling you to carry on with your normal PC activity without any interruptions. Capture, resize and save photos The main window is resizable and can be used to capture the image within. All options become available by opening the right-click menu. They can be either selected from the menu or triggered using keyboard shortcuts. It's possible to resize photos after capturing them, copy, paste or clear the window, add a sharpening effect, rotate the photo, capture the screen from point, monitor the Clipboard for images, view the pic's width and height, as well as save it to file by indicating the output directory, filename and format. It can also be sent as a file attachment in your default email client. Une nouvelle opération de grande ampleur pour traiter les vingt-quatre étudiants en situation de violences conjugales qui se trouvent dans les locaux de la Société de l'habitation de Montréal (SHAM). Elle est l'un des six projets du plan présenté mercredi par le ministère de l'Éducation du Québec pour soutenir les organismes qui essaient de sensibiliser à la violence envers les femmes. Parmi ces quatre autres projets: un programme d'accès à la justice pour les personnes victimes de violence domiciliaire et de violence conjugale; des événements publicitaires et campagnes de sensibilisation destinés aux jeunes hommes et aux travailleurs sociaux; un accès à des soins d'urgence pour les victimes de violence domestique; et une ligne d'aide pour les victimes de violence conjugale.
