Some Interesting Facts About Justin Bieber's Baby

Besides being a catchy song and a viral video, Justin Bieber's Baby also has some interesting facts behind it. Here are some of them:

- Baby was released on January 18, 2010, as the lead single from Bieber's debut album, My

World 2.0. It features American rapper Ludacris, who also co-wrote the song with Bieber, Christina Milian, Tricky Stewart, and The-Dream.[^4^]

- Baby was inspired by Bieber's first love, who broke his heart when he was 15 years old. He told Digital Spy that he wanted to write a song that everyone could relate to. He said: "I'm basically saying I really like this girl and would do anything to make her my girlfriend."[^1^]
- Baby was a huge commercial success, reaching number one in France and Scotland, and peaking in the top ten of many other countries. It also became the most-watched video on YouTube in July 2010, surpassing Lady Gaga's Bad Romance. It held that record until November 2012, when it was overtaken by PSY's Gangnam Style.[^4^]
- Baby was also the most disliked video on YouTube for a long time, receiving over 12 million dislikes as of December 2021. It was surpassed by Rebecca Black's Friday in 2011, and by YouTube Rewind 2018 in 2018. Some of the reasons for the dislikes include Bieber's high-pitched voice, the repetitive chorus, and the negative comments from haters.[^4^]
- Baby features several cameo appearances from other celebrities, such as Drake, Lil Twist, Tinashe, and Jasmine Villegas. The latter plays Bieber's love interest in the video, and also appeared in his Eenie Meenie video. She also dated Bieber briefly in real life.[^4^]

Justin Bieber's Baby is a song that has made history in many ways. It has shown Bieber's talent, charisma, and popularity as a young artist. It has also sparked many reactions, both positive and negative, from fans and critics alike. It is a song that will always be remembered as one of Bieber's signature hits.
